

1.	Shastri, Sudha	shastri@hss. iitb.ac.in	Associate Professor of English, Dept of HSS, IIT Bombay	Dept of Humanities and Social Sciences (HSS), IIT Bombay, Mumbai 400076, India	My doctoral research in intertextual fiction (published as "Intertextuality and Victorian Studies" by Orient Longman in 2001) continues to engage my teaching and research interest with respect to other genres like film (for a recent publication, go to http://www.jstor.org/stable/10.5406/jfilmvideo.63.1.0032). I am also interested in Narrative perspectives, reliability, and Free Indirect Discourse. Magical Realist narratives interest me for their technical and political content, especially within the larger rubric of postcolonial writing. Recent doctoral guidance has been in the thrust area of representation and reality in historical novels like Pamuk's My Name is Red and Eco's The
----	-------------------	----------------------------	--	--	---

					Name of the Rose.
--	--	--	--	--	--------------------------