

תעשיית הסיפור ב-2018

Uses of Narrative

22–26 January 2018
Institute of Cultural Research,
University of Tartu, Estonia

narrative.ut.ee

Students and researchers interested in storytelling and narrative are invited to come together in Tartu, Estonia, to take part in the third LACE Winter School on the Uses of Narrative. With some of Europe's leading narrative scholars as speakers, as well as contributions from a wide array of disciplines and practices, the Winter School will showcase cutting-edge research and explore the uses of narrative.

The Winter School will in particular zoom in on:

- > Narrative and cognition;
- > Narrative and negotiation of values;
- > Narrative across media;
- > Catastrophe and disaster narratives;
- > Narrative hermeneutics and autonarration;
- > Transdisciplinary studies of narrative;
- > Applied Narratology.

Lecturers:

Jan Alber, Jan Baetens, Helena Buescu, Evelyn Gius, Marina Grishakova, Stefan Kjerkegaard, Liesbeth Korthals Altes, Robert Kurvitz & Mårten Rattasepp, Donata Meneghelli, Sjoerd-Jeroen Moenandar, Domingo Sánchez-Mesa Martínez.

Academic coordinators: Prof. Marina Grishakova, Dr. Jaak Tomberg

Fees: Students € 85
(without accommodation; lunches, formal dinner included)
Students € 250
(accommodation, lunches, formal dinner included)
Others € 350
(accommodation, lunches, formal dinner included)

Who is it for: MA and junior PhD students, researchers

Language of Instruction: English

Credits/Certificate: 6 ECTS

Apply before: October 15, 2017

More information: narrative.ut.ee

The Winter School is organized by the university network LACE (Literature and Change in Europe), including the Universities of Aarhus, Bologna, Granada, Groningen, Leuven, Lisbon and Tartu.